

Claire Clarke

I paint butterflies I paint in my book painting is fun. I like drawing it makes me feel free and happy. I like to draw the line and paint in it. I like pasting because I can stick the paper on. Artwork makes me very happy.'

Claire's work reveals her natural instinct for creating original form and line. Claire's works in mixed media incorporating collage, paint, pastel and pencil. She takes delight in the process experimenting with techniques and forms, and at times labours over her work using fine brush strokes.
